A person is shown from the back, wearing a black lumbar support belt. The belt has a central rectangular pad with vertical ridges and two straps with buckles on either side. The person is wearing a white t-shirt. The image is framed by a green circular border.

A black, textured fabric strap, possibly made of neoprene or a similar material, is shown. It has a metal buckle at one end. The strap is coiled in a loose 'U' shape. The texture is a fine, woven pattern. The buckle is a simple metal D-ring style. The background is white.
